

Dare to Care

Words by Louis Bohtlingk*

The relationship between money and care is profound.
When we dare to let care lead the way in all financial and economic processes and money serves caring,
a completely fresh foundation emerges.

This foundation will bless us for generations to come and fully sustain all we are and our beautiful Earth.

We call it the beauty of Care First over Money First.
The new foundation is love-based,
because care is love in action.

The sun can shine again upon all we re-create
based on the voice of our heart and its intelligence.

As we slowly but steadily make this breakthrough
by keeping the best of what we've created so far
and rebuilding what is malfunctioning,
we will create what our hearts know to be true:
a world where love guides each of us and our cultures.

Our children need us to relate, to give and receive,
as they so often naturally do themselves.
We deeply need what our sharing heart feels and brings to us.

That innocence is real.
It is not something to lose as we grow up!

*This is a part of an introduction poem
from Louis Bohtlingk's first book "Dare To Care" published in 2011.